

THE PEOPLE'S COVENANT

A Manifesto of Service, Security, Opportunity, and Hope

Dr. Michael Akintomide Ajilo, MD
APC Candidate – Member, House of Representatives

FOREWORD: WHY I AM OFFERING MYSELF TO SERVE

I am offering myself to serve because leadership must mean service, governance must deliver results, and representation must reflect the lived realities of the people.

As a physician, public health professional, educator, and community advocate, I have seen, first-hand, how security, education, healthcare, infrastructure, and opportunity shape the destiny of families and nations. I have worked across Nigeria and the diaspora, and I return with one conviction:

Nigeria can work for everyone if leadership listens, plans, and acts with integrity.

This manifesto is my covenant with the people — a clear roadmap for legislative action, constituency advocacy, and accountable representation.

SECURITY, PEACE, AND NATIONAL STABILITY THROUGH KNOWLEDGE

No society can prosper without peace. No economy can grow without security. And no nation can endure without knowledge.

My Commitments

I will: I will work relentlessly to strengthen Nigeria's security framework while addressing the root causes of insecurity — ignorance, unemployment, injustice, and exclusion.

- Advocate for adequate funding, modern equipment, and welfare for security agencies to protect lives and property.
- Support security sector reforms that promote professionalism, accountability, human rights, and rule of law.
- Champion peace-building, mediation, and conflict resolution, fostering unity across ethnic, religious, and social divides.
- Promote full implementation of the National Livestock Transformation Plan to resolve farmer-herder conflicts sustainably.
- Strengthen Nigeria's security architecture through legislation addressing terrorism, cybercrime, and emerging threats.

- Ensure continuous oversight, monitoring, and evaluation of security policies for improved outcomes and public trust.
- Empower youths and women through education, skills acquisition, and job creation — because empowered citizens are the strongest defense against insecurity.
- Promote community policing and crime prevention, working with civil society and grassroots organizations.
- Advocate for education funding and reform, ensuring curricula align with national development and global standards.
- Support teacher welfare, training, and recognition as the foundation of national transformation.
- Ensure no child is left behind, especially out-of-school children and victims of violence.
- Promote regional and international cooperation in both security and education.
